ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. JOHNSTOWN, July 28.-This has been the quietest day since the flood, no work of any kind being done, and there were no excursion trains into the place. As a consequence there were but few people on the streets. Services were held by the different congregations, many of them having socured temporary shelter for the purpose. Although not damaged externally to any great extent, the large stone M. E. Church will not be ready for occupancy for some time. The floors were broken down by the weight of the water, and the furniture was destroyed, so that everything will have to be replaced by new furniture. This was the largest church in the town, and by withstanding the force of the wave saved

The funeral of John Snyder, who shot himself yesterday, took place this afternoon and was largely attended. The members of the Conemaugh fire company, to which he belonged, turned out in a body. It is growing more evident every day that the rubbish in the town will not be cleared up this summer. The force of men at work now is entirely too small and with the herculean task before them they can make but little headway. If the work is to be completed it is the opinion that a much larger force should be employed. Since the streets are opened there is a much better chance to get around, and a force of 2,000 men now would not be as much in the way as 500 were before the avenues of travel were opened up. The conditions are all favorable now for pushing the work, and the people say that if the State intends to clean up the town that the work should now be pushed more rapidly. There are hundreds of orders ahead now for cellars that are to be cleaned up, and the people will have to wait months before the work is

Thorough Canvass. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SCOTTDALE, July 28 .- The general committee appointed yesterday will meet to-morrow at Everson and appoint sub-committees to visit the different works and keep the officials advised as to the condition of affairs in all parts of the region. A leading member of the Knights of Labor stated to-day in regard to giving the operators six days' notice of a suspension of work, that if such notice had been given under the Frick scale the men could not have asked for an advance, as that would have acknowledged legality an agreement that had never been submitted to the men. He also stated that the operators have had sufficient notice and if any coke is left in the ovens after August 1 it will be their own fault.

A meeting was held at Morgans this afternoon, but those present refused to give anything for publication. It is understood, an effort is the region thoroughly canvassed between now and Wednesday in order that the leaders may know the exact strength of the men and be able to more successfully conduct the

It has been decided to run the first regular passenger train with mail to Elkins in Tygart Valley, 115 miles south of Cumberland, on Monday, August 12. telegraph line was completed last evening, giving 130 miles of wire with 16 offices. As completed to Elkins, the main road is 115 miles; Elk Garden branch 8 miles, Davis branch 7, in all 130. The station at Elkins is ready for traffic, and complete revision of road force is in progress.

The first accident on the road to a passenger occurred yesterday afternoon at Tub Run, on the Cheat River extension. J. Caricoe, lumberman of Williams, had his arm cut off by a projecting stone left in the # way by a carcless contractor. The company will be responsible.

THE FIGHT IS ON.

for the Well Drillers.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) WASHINGTON, PA., July 28.—The fight of the borough authorities against the par-ties drilling oil wells within the borough ties drilling oil wells within the borough limits is now on in earnest. On the Alexander Agnew lot, within a short distance of a number of buildings, was located the No. 2 Agnew. It was drilled to the depth of 1,050 feet, when the tools were lost. The rig has since been moved a few feet and on Friday a new hole was started. In the meantime those interested were notified by the Burgess that drilling in the borough was contrary to an ordinance. No attention was paid to the notice and Mr. Agnew, owner of the ground, was cited to appear before Burgess Allison, who fined him $10 and costs. The next day his attorney saked for a certiforari, but later the application was withdrawn. Attorney Birch gave the other side notice that on to-morrow he would make application for an appeal or he would make application for an appeal or recritorari.

Friday afternoon the workmen commenced spudding. Yesterday morning Street Commissioner Thompson broke connection by severing the gas and water pipes. The four police officers of the borough accompanied him. As soon as the contractor, Pat Yorke, heard of the affair he hurried to the well and made connections again. A second time the officers appeared, and when the Street Commissioner attempted to break things loose Mr. Yorke grabbed him. At that moment the strong arm of Chief of Police Greer reached out for Mr. Yorke, and he was taken before Burgess Allison and sentenced to pay $10 and costs. He refused to pay the fine and was turned over to the custody of Sheriff Lockhart. A little later he was released on a writ of habeas corpus owing to a defect in the commitment.

The court gave him notice, however, The court gave him notice, however, that the law must be respected and that operations must cease. No spudding has since been done. The hearing for appeal will be heard to-morrow. In another case, where a derrick has just been erected on the Deems-Reynolds lots, an application will be made to-morrow before Judge McIlraine, asking for an injunction restraining the owners of injunction restraining the owners of the well from further work. The derrick is probably not more than 59 feet from a number of residences, In still another instance, that of the Darragh case, the Burgess notified the owners, George Darragh, William Borcher, George McLeod, Dr. George Kelly and James Matthews, that they are violating a borough ordinance by the erection of an oil ### rig, and they will be cited to appear befor him some time this week. TWO INCENDIARY FIRES.

Church Destroyed and a Residence Is nited at Daquespe. BRADDOCK, July 28 .- The newly erected church of the M. E. congregation, at Duquesne, burned down this morning. The church had not yet been completed. The fire was a very suspicious one and is sup-posed to have been of an incendiary origin. At the same place the inmates of the house of Chief Clerk Frank Gray, of the Alle-gheny Bessemer Steel Company plant, were startled by the announcement by the em-ployes of a shifting engine on the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston Railroad that they were in danger of being burned up.

A lot of waste had been put on the porch of Mr. Gray's residence and afterward set on fire. The flames were eating into the timber of the porch when the timely discovery was made by the railroad employes. The loss on the church is $3,000. A DRY DAY AT WHEELING.

THE CONVICT LABOR QUESTION. Minnesota Prisoners Will Soon Begin to Manufacture Buckets and Tubs. MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., July 28 .- The State Prison Board has decided not to adopt the suggestion of the Governor that the prisoners be put to work making binding twine, as they think it would require too much money to purchase the necessary ma-chinery. They have, however, concluded to put about 75 convicts to making tubs and # pails, the machinery for which will cost about $8,000. The State account system does not seem to be in great favor with the board.

Two hours of discussion preceded the vote.

OUR NATIONAL PRIDE

Is to be Aroused by Congressmen Who Will Ask for Subsidies

gress in behalf of our merchant marine.

Statistics show the United States' carrying trade is rapidly decreasing. The Dingley bill, which was to have sided the merchant service, has not availed much. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, July 28.-The vast mounts being spent for the rehabilitation of the navy has encouraged the friends of subsidies to think that sufficient national pride may be aroused to induce Congress to do something now for the merchant marine.

This, with the fact that both branches of Congress are in the hands of the Republicans has already spurred such champions of subsidies as Representative Dingley and Senator Hale, of Maine, to take steps to insure success at the next session of bills that have been deteated again and again.

During the discussion Mr. Dingley and his sympathizers will probably be called upon to explain some figures not exactly in the line of their argument. In 1884 a bill brown as the Dingley shipping bill entithe line of their argument. In 1884 a bill known as the Dingley shipping bill, entitled "An act to remove certain burdens from the American marine, and to encourage the foreign carrying trade," in American bottoms, of course, was passed. The ostensible object of this, as 'shown in the discussion in the House, was to aid American shipping, and especially to increase the number of vesseis of American build engaged in commerce between the ports of South and Central America and the United States. This bill was in the nature of a subsidy in that it bill was in the nature of a subsidy in that i provided a lower rate of atosady in that it provided a lower rate of tonnage dues for American vessels than for foreign ones, and it was expected that within a few years there would be a great increase in the number of vessels engaged in the South America trade. Statistics that have just become available have not justified the hope. In 1884 the total tonnage of vessels engaged in the foreign carrying trade with American registers was 1,276,972. In 1888 this tonnage had fallen to 912,302. In 1884 the total trade of the United States with Brazil amounted in dollars to $58,961,584, and of this $50,265,889 was the value of imports. In 1888 the trade had fallen to $58,279,981, while the imports had increased to $51,181,734. In 1884 the total exports of the United States to Brazil were valued at $8,695,659. In 1888 the exports had fallen to $7,078,247. In 1884 imports were brought to this country in 160 American vessels, with a total registry A FUTILE HOPE.

160 American vessels, with a total registry of 90,602 tons. In 1888, under the operation of the Ding ley bill, for some cause not explained, the number of American bottoms engaged in this trade had fallen to 71 and the tonnage to 57,808. In 1884 the number of foreign ves-sels engaged in this trade was 590, and the sels engaged in this trade was 590, and the register was 327,693 tons. In 1888 the number had fallen to $97, but the total tonnage had increased to 331,985. In 1884 the exports from the United States to Brazilian ports were shipped in 202 foreign vessels with a total registry of 74,571 tons. In 1888 the number of vessels had fallen to 151, but the tonnage was increased to 83,728.

INFECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.!

NEWARK, O., July 28.—From Jersey, this county, comes a distressing story of the sad drowning of a young man named Charles Ulery. He, with a number of others, was bathing in a large pond. While in the water he was taken with cramps and sank. His companions tried to save him but could not. The body was recovered half an hour later. Ulery's father resides at New Albany, Franklin county. The unfortunate youth was 20 years of age.

Similar results appear on a comparison of the trade between the United States and nearly all of the ports of American countries on the Atlantic Ocean. The Dingley bill, it is true, has removed "certain burdens from the American marine," but it seems to have utterly failed to "encourage the foreign carrying trade."

WICHITA, KAN., July 28.—Soon after the disappearance of Banker Brown, June 19 last, the report started that he had been assailed by someone seeking vengeance in behalf of a woman who was said to have een his first wife, and that he had married second before getting a divorce. The incorrectness of such report was thoroughly established in a few days. Brown is living established in a few days. Brown is living with his first wife, and their domestic affairs have always been most pleasant. Brown to-day is much improved, and spent two hours sitting in the shade in the lawn of his residence. He is quite weak, but seems perfectly at himself as far as the happenings around him are concerned. The authorities have been pressing the physicians for the privilege of asking him for a statement. He had improved so much this evening that physicians gave their consent for two or three questions.

The authorities were quite anxious to know if Brown was assailed, and this was the first question. To this, after a moment's reflection, he said: "I must have been attacked, but at present I can scarcely recall anything." That happened the first five months." He was then asked how he got away, and replied: "I am not able to state whether I got away or was set free." He was then asked which way he came home, and answered: "I think I came from the South."

Master of Masons of the District of Columbia, under date of July 25, pronouncing the Cerneau organization claudestine, and warning all members of that rite that they are liable to discipline from the Grand Lodge unless they at once withdraw from said Cerneau body. The main reason for the edict, aside from other questions arising in the Scottish rite controversy, is stated to be that the Cerneau organization has established relations of a mighty and Masonic correspondence with the Grand Orient of France, the governing body of Masons in that country, which is under the ban of at least every English speaking Grand Lodge in the world.

The Grand Lodges of this country, it is said, have an additional gravance against the Grand Orient of France, because the latter persists in recognizing the negro Grand Lodges of the United States.
